NAWA VISION & MISSION

Vision

We have passed through Revolutionary times when the spirit of Volunteerism was at its most ardent so the main focus was to respond to Community Needs as and when they arose and in the process develop and Empower people.

But times have changed and new needs and new Potentials have emerged.

We have moved from the age of Volunteerism to the age of Professionalism.

Mission

To Develop and Empower People from tribal communities so that they can assert their own social, community and cultural identities and build a Sustainable future for themselves

Annual Report 2022 -2023

Introduction :

The Nilgiris Adivasi Welfare Association (NAWA) is working in the fields of medical and health care, medical research and intervention with a focus on Sickle cell Anaemia, mother and child care, child protection, education, livelihood, empowerment of tribal communities, promoting tribal artefacts and networking for resource mobilisation.

NAWA was founded by Padmashri Dr.S.Narasimhan in 1958 following many years of dedicated pioneering work in the region. He was awarded Padmashri and Dr.B.C Roy Award in recognition of his dedicated tribal welfare and medical relief work. In 1966 Miss Victoria Armstrong, formerly Inspector of schools in England, joined NAWA as a voluntary worker and devoted her life for the cause of tribal welfare.

With over 64 years of experience in tribal welfare NAWA has become a model organisation in tribal development. The Govt. of India and the Govt. of Tamil Nadu have approved and grant aided several programmes in tribal locations in the Nilgiris and adjoining districts and States. It is managed by a Committee consisting of members from various tribal communities and a dedicated team of staff. From a simple beginning in 1958 NAWA has become a peoples' organisation now.

Activities of NAWA :

- Medical and health care through hospitals, day clinics located in interior tribal settlements and mobile medical outreach units with grant aid from Ministry of tribal Affairs, Govt. of India.
- Tribal Mobile Medical Outreach (TMORS) offering medical care and clinical investigations in all the four blocks of the Nilgiris and one block in the Coimbatore district
- Screening of Sickle Cell Anaemia and Neo natal screening and interventions such as genetic counselling and treatment with ICMR grant.
- Crèche and nutrition centres in 18 tribal settlements and preschool education with opportunities for learning through play with support from ICDS..
- Education and economic development through sponsorship programmes through financial assistance to pursue regular education in schools, universities and in vocational training centres.
- Capacity building and empowerment of children and youth.
- Financial assistance to tribal farmers to develop wastelands with tea, coffee, spices and other sustainable agriculture.
- Empowerment of tribal women through Self Help Groups (SHGs) and training men and women in entrepreneurship and capacity building.
- Promotion of sports and skill development among tribal youth.
- Documenting, preserving and promoting tribal arts and crafts and trainings on pottery, paintings, embroidery and other tribal crafts.
- Rehabilitation farm colony for formerly bonded labourers.
- Promotion of herbal medicine preparation and marketing.
- Representing development issues of the tribal people on wider platforms and collaborating with other agencies for resource mobilisation.

- ECRC - Mental Health- Psychiatry treatment in Nilgiris Medical College, Hospital Ooty
- Promotion of Environment and Forest Development.

PVTG Medical and Health Care Schemes for tribal populations :

The tribal people still value our medical services highly because they feel that our well established hospitals and dispensaries are located in their own villages. They find these centres are informal and as they find their own people amongst them. They also feel that they get more immediate and caring attention than they would get elsewhere.

The Ministry of Tribal Affairs, Government of India has been supporting NAWA for many years with financial assistance to run medical centers and mobile medical units in tribal areas of the Nilgiris and parts of Karnataka.

I. Kolikarai Hospital :

This hospital, in an interior tribal village, is a focal point for the medical care to the Irula and Kurumba tribes of the former tropical forested areas of the eastern Nilgiris. Patients from Toda, Kota, and Kurumba tribal communities from central and western parts of the Nilgiris also make use of this hospital.
